Out-of-Town Excursions Being Taken Today.

SOME SOCIAL OCCASIONS

Special Dispatch to The Evening Star. BOSTON, August 29.-There has been othing to mar the enjoyment of the Wash ington Knights Templar. No accidents or cases of sickness are reported among them. The reception at headquarters of Columbia Commandery Tuesday night was a great success from every standpoint, and last night Washington Commandery was equally fortunate in the entertainment of its friends. The parlors at its headquarters were beautifully decorated with flowers and handsome banners. The ladies of the commandery were constituted a committee to assist the officers in receiving the guests, who came in large numbers. Each one a he was presented seemed to have a kind word to say of his treatment in Washington during the conclave of 1889. Refreshments were served by the entertainment emmittee in the adjoining parlors, ably De Molay Commandery of Washington will hold a reception this evening at Copley Square Hotel.

This morning Washington and Columbia Commanderies marched to the Boston and Revere radroad station, where they took the train for Lynn, to become the guests of Olivet Commandery. A short parade there the train for Lynn, to become the guests of Olivet Commandery. A short parade there is on the program. All were looking for a reyal time as they departed, and from the preparations by their Lynn fraters they seemed not doomed to disappointment.

The committee on charters of the grand encampment has agreed to report favorably on petition to organize Orient Commandery, No. 5, on Capitol Hill.

By Associated Press. Next Conclave at Pittsburg. BOSTON, August 29.-The Grand Enampment of the Knights Templar has decided upon Pittsburg as the next conclave

The Grand Encampment elected Right Eminent Sir Warren Larue Thomas of Kennent Sir Hugh McCurdy; 301 votes were cast, of which the successful candidate reedyed 205.

The knights elected Very Eminent Sir Reuben H. Lloyd of San Francisco deputy Reuben H. Lloyd of San Francisco deputy grand commander.

A dull gray sky and rain-soaked earth rather discouraged the Knights Templar when they turned out for the day.

Black and white plumes and tightly-fitting uniform coats are giving way rapidly to fatigue caps and business suits, and the sir knights seem to have settled down to systematic sightseeing.

The session of the Grand Encampment was reopened at Masonic Temple at 10 a.m., when the election of officers was taken up. The conclave of the women's Masonic organization, the Order of the Eastern Star, was also formally opened at Union Hall.

Out-of-Town Excursions.

Out-of-Town Excursions. Out-of-town excursions have been as rumerous and attractive as on yesterday. Golden Gate Commandery of San Francisco visited Brockton, where the members were entertained by Bay State Commandery The program consisted of a parade, a visit o historic Plymouth and a banquet.

ERA IN JOURNALISM.

Extension of Associated Press Lines to Mexico MEXICO CITY. August 29.-President

Diaz, on hearing from the Associated Press correspondent that the service of the Associated Press would from now on be received in the capital every day, said that in his opinion it would be a great advance for the journalism in Mexico. Here in the capital of the republic was printed the first book ever printed in the new world, and here also was published the first daily paper on this hemisphere.

ARANDONED THE POTOMAC.

Deemed Not Healthy Enough for a Bellamy Colony.

TOPEKA, Kan., August 29.-Mrs. Anna Diggs, the agitator, and Dr. S. McAllin, editor of the Advocate, the official paper of the populist party in Kansas, have returned from Montrose county, Col., where they have been to establish the Montrose county co-operative colony. It is to be conducted on the Bellamy plan, and is being premoted by the same organization that a year ago perfected arrangements for establishing a colony on the Potomac river bout fifty miles below Washington.

The Potomac was abandoned, Mrs. Diggs says, because of its unhealthfulness. The Colorado colony is to be located on gov ernment land, which will be taken up unler the homestead and desert land der the homestead and desert land laws.
Intending colonists have already filed upon three thousand acres of land, and ten men have located there and begun work, making preparations for the reception of the colonists and their families. Other members of the proposed colony will in a few days file upon five thousand acres more.

Mrs. Diggs now claims a residence in Colmade deserve that one reason why the orado, and says that one reason why that state was selected for her colony is that women there have political rights, and that she is tired of battling for them else-

Talking for Sound Money. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., August 29.-The

'sound money" democrats have opened their campaign with a speech delivered here by Mr. H. D. Lehman, general attorney of the Burlington railway. The ad-dress was made under the auspices of the Sound Money Club, which is composed of very prominent democrats. Similar clubs will be organized throughout the state. The state officials, particularly those who desire renomination, are either openly opposing the "sound money" move or are standing aloof from it.

BIG DAYS FOR POLITICIANS.

The managers of the Montgomery county agricultural fair, which is to be held at Rockville next week, are making arrange ments to make it the most successful meeting in the history of the association. The display of exhibits, particularly of animals, will be larger and of a better character than heretofore, and the entries in the various races assure contests of a firstclass character. Next Tuesday and Thursday will be gala days, and will doubtless attract a great outpouring of Maryland republicans and democrats, as Candidate Lloyd Lowndes will be there Tuesday or Thursday to stir up republican hearts, while Mr. John E. Hurst, the democratic nominee Mr. John E. Hurst, the democratic nominee for governor; Governor Frairk Brown and Controller Marion De Kalb Smith; who was nominated to succeed himself, will be pres-ent on Thursday. The races on both days will also be particularly interesting, and there will be a number of other attractions, including base ball games between crack nires in the Maryland League.

CONVENTION OF SPIRITUALISTS. The National Association Will Meet

Harrison D. Barnett, president of the National Spiritualists' Association of the United States and Canada, has issued the call for the third annual convention of the order, to be held at Masonic Temple in this city October 15 to 17, inclusive.

It is expected that there will be a large atterdance of delegates and others interested in the faith, while it is promised that many well-known lecturers and mediums will participate in the public exercises, which are to be held each evening. The business meetings will be held during the day, when important matters will be brought up for consideration and settle-

LEONARD AGAIN FOULS.

Again last evening the police were forced to interfere and end an announced "friendly bout" at Kernan's Theater, but which developed into an angered slugging match. Johnny Connors of this city appeared be fore Mike Leonard, and to many in the man of the pair. It is claimed that Leonard lost his temper and fouled Connors with his elbow and then struck him, re-peating the operation while the Washing-ton man was on his knees. At one time Connors got Leonard's head under one arm and punched him with considerable energy. Leonard finally knocked Connors prostrate with a terrific blow, and then the police stopped the fight and the curtain was rung down.

 MR. GERSTENBERG'S DOG

SUMMER RESORTS......Page

It Occupies Considerable of the Time of the Police Court.

Its Owner Charged With Being in Contempt - The Court's Decision Reserved. Saloonkeeper Ernest Gerstenberg's big

dcg "Bismarck" is still alive, notwithstand-ing the fact that his death was ordered by Judge Scott several days ago for the reasen that the animal's teeth drew bload from a boy's leg. Mr. Gerstenberg told the court when the case was tried that he would not kill the dog, nor would he allow a representative of the District to execute his pet, and he evidently meant what he said. When the other business of the court had been disposed of Mr. Pugh called Judge Scott's attention to the case of "Bismarck." This case, Mr. Pugh said, was in court for two reasons. When the case was in court the other day, he said, the dog was ordered killed, and no fine was imposed. The law requires the imposition of a fine in addition to the death of the animal. Mr. in addition to the death of the animal. Mr. Gerstenberg, he said, is therefore in court for the purpose of having a fine imposed, and also for the purpose of being punished for contempt. He said that after the trial of the case Policeman Sutton was the member of the force who was ordered to execute the dog, but the owner of the dog reftsed to deliver up the animal when he went to the house to put into execution the court's order.

Messrs. Allflight and Sillers, for the defendant, argued that the court had no right to pass the order concerning the dog's death, and therefore their client could not be in contempt. They cited the act of Congress concerning fierce and dangerous dogs, and said that the law of the Commission ers in reference to biting dogs was in direct conflict with this act. Counsel cited authorities in support of their claim.

Attacking the Order.

Mr. Pugh answered counsel, and during the course of his remarks he said he thought the regulation of the Commissionat least two feet from the sidewalk; if no parking or suitable area exists, the fixture may be placed in the sidewalk inside the line of projections and as close to the building line as practicable.

Sec. 75. If the public sewer be a pipe sewer, having a diameter of twelve inches hydrophobia is likely to result from some of the biting.

The regulation of the Commissioners, he said, does not affect the act of Congress. The latter provides against fierce and dangerous dogs, while the former is designed to punish persons for having biting dogs. Mr. Pugh said that every biting dog is not necessarily fierce and dangerous, not does it follow that a fierce and dangerous dog must bite somebody.

In this particular case, he said, Mr. Gerstenberg denies that his dog is fierce

In this particular case, he said, Mr. Gerstenberg denies that his dog is fierce and dangerous, but he cannot deny that the dog is a biting animal.

Both Judges Miller and Kimball, he said, have disposed of cases under this act, and this is the first time the owner of a dog has refused to give up the animal. Mr. Pugh told the court of the circumstances under which the dog bit a boy who was going to get his newspapers. The biting occurred in a public alley and not on the premises of its owner.

In reply to Mr. Pugh counsel for the defendant argued that there was no legal

In reply to Mr. Pugh counsel for the defendant argued that there was no legal judgment in the case, and the defendant therefore could not be in contempt. The judgment, they argued, was imperfect and consequently it is not legal.

Judge Scott heard further argument, and reserved his decision until tomorrow,

EDWARD STURTEVANT DEAD.

He Was Well-Known and Popular in Washington-The Funeral Tomorrow The announcement of the death of Mr. Edward K. Sturtevant, which occurred in Brooklyn Tuesday, midnight, caused a profound shock to his many friends in this city, where he was so widely and favorably known. Mr. Sturtevant, who was the son of Mr. Albert L. Sturtevant of the Na tional Safe Deposit and Trust Company, was born at Mount Pleasant twenty-five years ago. He attended the public schools and entered the High School, but left before the completion of his course to accept a position with Mr. H. N. Low, the present attorney. After remaining there several years he was made the Washington repre sentative of the New York patent attorneys firm of Richards & Co., and later was called to a responsible position in the home office, which he held at the time of his death. which he held at the time of his death. He was a young man of sterling character, and a particularly genial disposition, and his early death is deplored by his numerous friends everywhere. He was at one time a popular member of battery A of the D. C.

Several years ago Mr. Sturtevant married Miss Carrie Shuster of this city, who, with a small daughter, survives him. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 4 p.m. from the residence of his father, 1453 Howard avenue, Mt. Pleasant. Advance in Silverware.

day evenings between 6 and

From the Chicago Tribune.

A small, dirty newsboy worked a paying game for a week or so down in the shop-ping districts. He would don a most pathetic expression, go up to a woman and say, "Missis, won't you buy a paper? Dis s my birfday, and I ain't sold hardly any." Of course he would sell one in nine cases out of ten, and would generally get a nickel and be told to keep the change. He must have kept this up fully a week and reaped a bountiful harvest. At last one young woman, who had tired of the same story, and who became rather skeptical on the subject of the "birfdays," stopped the young genius and remarked in tones clear enough to be heard some little distance, "See here, little boy, what did you say about your birthday?"

"Lady, please buy a paper; dls is my birfday, and I ain't sold but one paper today," whired the young rascal. out of ten, and would generally get a

"Now, little boy, to my certain knowledge, you have had a birthday every day this wesk. Aren't you ashamed to tell such stories?"

He was cornered for a minute, and stood with head cast down and every appearance of remorse. At last he looked up, with the most innocent expression, and said: "Well, you see, lady, you en me we're different.
I ain't very old, en I thought I'd have a

She concluded he was past reforming, and, slipping a dime in his hand, moved on, sighing over the wickedness of this generation, while the young sinner executed a
